Our policy and procedures

Everything we do at City College Norwich is to enhance our student's experience, therefore students and their safety is of paramount importance. We seek to provide a safe and supportive environment where the welfare and health and safety of students is valued, promoted and safeguarded so that students can learn and progress in a safe and secure environment.

The purpose of our Safeguarding policy and procedure is to ensure that every young person who is registered at our college is safe and protected from harm.

This means that we will always work to:

- Protect children and young people at our organisation from maltreatment
- Prevent impairment of our students health or development
- Ensure that children and young people at our college grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
- Undertake that role so as to enable students at our college to have optimum life chances and enter adulthood successfully

The Safeguarding Policy aims to:

- Define organisational and individual roles and responsibilities for safeguarding
- Outline our legal responsibilities in relation to safeguarding
- Outline the process for managing safeguarding referrals

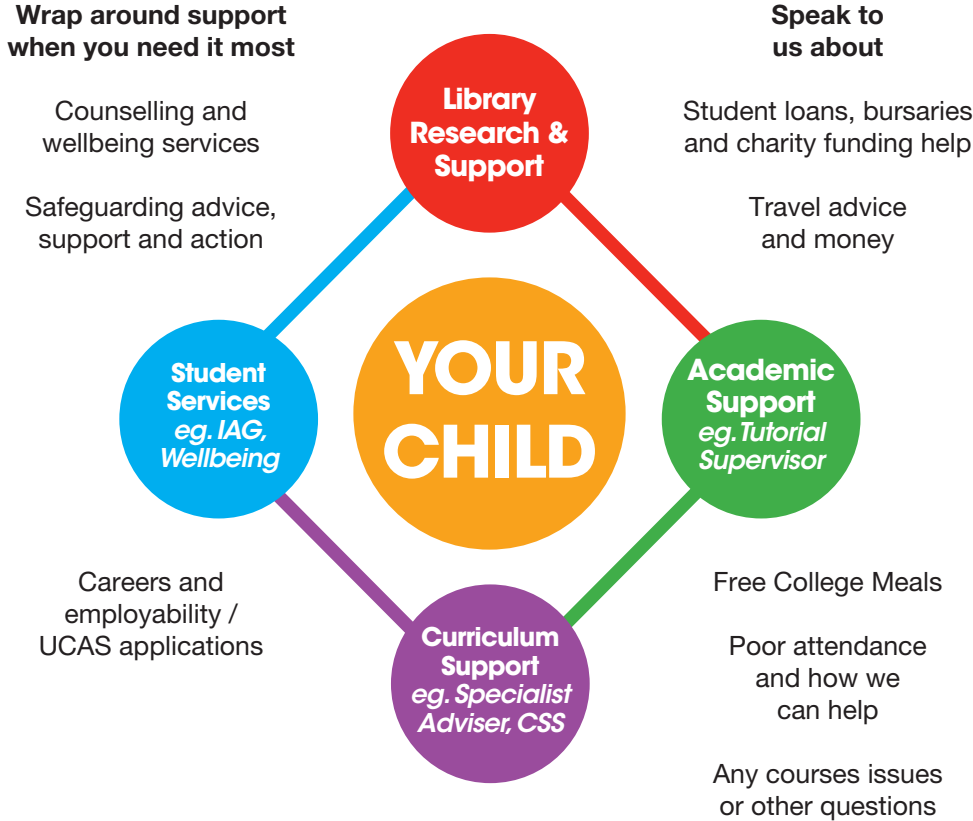

Our Ethos: to provide a safe environment for our students

We are committed to promoting a positive, supportive and secure environment where students can develop a sense of being valued. We will do this through the effective implementation of a series of procedures related to health, safety and well-being. The following procedures will support our commitment to providing a safe learning environment:

- Admissions and Review
- Alcohol and Drugs
- Bullying and Harassment
- Confidential Care Plan
- Disruptive Behaviour in the Classroom
- Staying Safe Online
- Healthy Eating
- Student Absence
- Unwell Students
- Searching students

How we will support your child

At College we will provide your child with wrap around support services that are tailored to their individual needs so that they are able to access their education and get the most out of their college experience. The diagram below shows some of the types of support your child can access through our support services.

What we will do if we have a concern about your child

If we are concerned that your child may be at risk of abuse or neglect we must follow the procedures in our safeguarding policy. You can look at the policy in college, or receive a copy to take home. Please just ask one of the named people at the front of this booklet.

The procedures have been written to protect all students. They comply with our statutory responsibilities and are designed to support students, families and staff. The procedures are based on the principle that the welfare of the child is the most important consideration.

We are committed to working with parents positively, openly and honestly. We ensure that all parents are treated with respect, dignity and courtesy. We respect parents' rights to privacy and confidentiality and will not share sensitive information unless we have permission or it is necessary to do so in order to safeguard a child from harm.

We will seek to share with parents any concerns we may have about their child unless to do so may place a child at increased risk of harm. A lack of parental engagement or agreement regarding concerns the institution has about a child will not prevent the DSL making a referral to Children's Services in those circumstances where it is appropriate to do so.

All safeguarding records are kept separate from your child's general college file. Records are stored in a locked cabinet, and if stored electronically they are held in a secure system.

The only staff who have access to the records are those who need to know about the concerns in order to protect and support your child.

You can ask to see what information is held on your child, and we will normally agree to this, but if we are unsure we will seek advice from the local authority safeguarding board or young people's social care first.

Child protection is a very sensitive issue and it raises many questions and a range of strong emotions. We will do everything we can support our students and you can be assured that any action we take will be in the best interests of your child.

IF YOU ARE CONCERNED ABOUT THE SAFETY OR WELFARE OF YOUR CHILD, OR A CHILD YOU KNOW, YOU SHOULD ACT WITHOUT DELAY. YOU CAN ASK FOR ADVICE, OR REPORT YOUR CONCERN TO:

Young people's Social Care CADS Child Advice & Duty Service

If you have a concern for the welfare or safety of a child you can make a telephone referral by telephone on 0344 800 8020. CADS is a partnership between; Norfolk County Council Children's and Adult Care Services, Police, Leeway and Orwell, Independent Domestic Violence Advisory Services (IDVA), Magdalene Group, ROSE Project (CSE and Young Runaways), Children Health services and Probation.

If your child is being bullied

Many people worry that their suspicions might be wrong, or that they will be interfering unnecessarily. If you wish, you can telephone for advice without identifying the child. If the conversation confirms that you are right to be concerned you can then give the child's details. You will be asked for your name and address too, but the agencies will take anonymous calls, so if you really do not want to say who you are, you do not have to. Remember, it is always better to be safe than sorry.

We help to keep students safe by:

- having an up to date safeguarding policy
- training all our staff to recognise and respond to child & vulnerable adult welfare concerns
- having other safeguarding policies, such as anti-bullying and staying safe online
- appointing designated senior person(s) who have additional training in child protection
- checking the suitability of all our staff to work with young people
- working in partnership with parents and carers
- encouraging students to tell us if something is wrong
- sharing information with appropriate agencies if we have concerns
- adhering to health and safety regulations
- managing and supporting our staff team.

We define bullying as behaviour that is deliberate, repeated more than once and is designed to be hurtful. Bullies tend to pick on young and/or vulnerable people who they think are unable to defend themselves. Bullying is not only about hitting or fighting. It also includes name-calling, threats, taking belongings, intimidating and making unkind or abusive remarks. Cyber-bullying is the use of texts, messages and emails to hurt, upset or frighten young and/or vulnerable people.

We have tackling bullying procedures that help us to identify and deal with any case of bullying in college, but bullying does not only take place in college, it can also happen in the home or in the community.

Bullying can be serious and cause a lot of distress. If your child tells you that they are being bullied in college, ask for their permission for you to tell us. They may not have told us themselves because they are afraid that the bully will find out and the bullying will get worse. Try to help them to understand that the bullying will not stop while it is kept secret. As soon as we know it is happening we will follow our anti-bullying procedures to try to stop it.

It is also distressing to suspect that your child might be bullying other young people. Our procedures include trying to support young people who bully to change their behaviour, so please talk to us if you think your child needs some help.

You will find some useful sources of information and support at the end of this booklet.

Complaints procedure

There may be an occasion when you need to tell us that something has gone wrong.

If you have a serious concern about the safety or welfare of your child or another student it may be dealt with under our safeguarding procedures. All other complaints, including those that may point to poor practice by a member of staff, will be dealt with firstly through the complaints procedure.

You should take any serious concerns about the behaviour of a staff member directly to the Principal. Examples of serious concerns include those involving violence, anything of a sexual nature or persistent bullying or humiliation. Otherwise, the complaints procedure has three stages.

Stage one – Informal

You may first speak to the member of staff concerned in your complaint. If you are able to telephone, or come into college and speak to the member of staff, you may be able to resolve your worries. If speaking to the staff member does not resolve the issue, or if you do not want to speak to the staff member directly, you should then move to stage two.

Stage two – Informal

You should now discuss your complaint with the Head of Department for the area. You can do this by telephone, letter, or arrange to meet at college. The Head of Department/nominated member of staff may need to make enquiries into your concern, including speaking with any people involved.

She or he may also ask you to record your complaint on the college's complaints form. You will want the Head of Department to find out what has happened, and the time this takes will depend on a number of things. They will agree with you the date by which they will contact you again. At this second contact, the Head of Department/member of staff will either tell you that enquiries are continuing, or report that enquiries are complete and offer a suggested resolution. Possible resolutions include:

- there was no evidence to support the complaint
- the complaint is upheld

Stage three – Formal

If you feel that the resolution offered in stage two is inadequate, you may forward your complaint to the Principal. You will need to complete a formal complaints form and send it to the address below. The Principal will listen to your complaint and your reasons for rejecting the previous resolutions. The Principal can then either dismiss the complaint, or uphold the complaint, in full or in part, and offer some resolutions. You will be given a date by which a decision will be taken and you will be notified in writing. The letter should be in your preferred language.

This is the final stage of the college-based complaints procedure.
